Foreword

We, the staff of the 1943 Green and White, in presenting your annual have wished to make it just that . . . yours.

This past year has brought many changes into your lives, and you have accepted them as loyal Sentinels and true Americans. So we present to you the story of your life at Inglewood High: that thrilling football game, the glorious prom, and the memorable experiences you have had during that eventful year, 1943.

We Dedicate

In the years to come we hope you will look at this annual often. We have tried to fill it with memories of glorious proms, thrilling football games, days filled with war work and studies, and the hundred little things that make up our high school life.

This life would not exist if it were not for the students whose activities are the center of each day's happenings.

So, for this reason, we, the staff, dedicate the 1943 Green and White to YOU.

Our Boys in the Service

To the hundreds of boys from our school who are giving their services and their lives for freedom, we owe a debt of gratitude. Although they are not here in school, we are joined in thoughts which guide and inspire us to carry on until their return.

To every Sentinel who is absent in the service of his country, the Inglewood Spotlight points with pride!

A Tribute to True

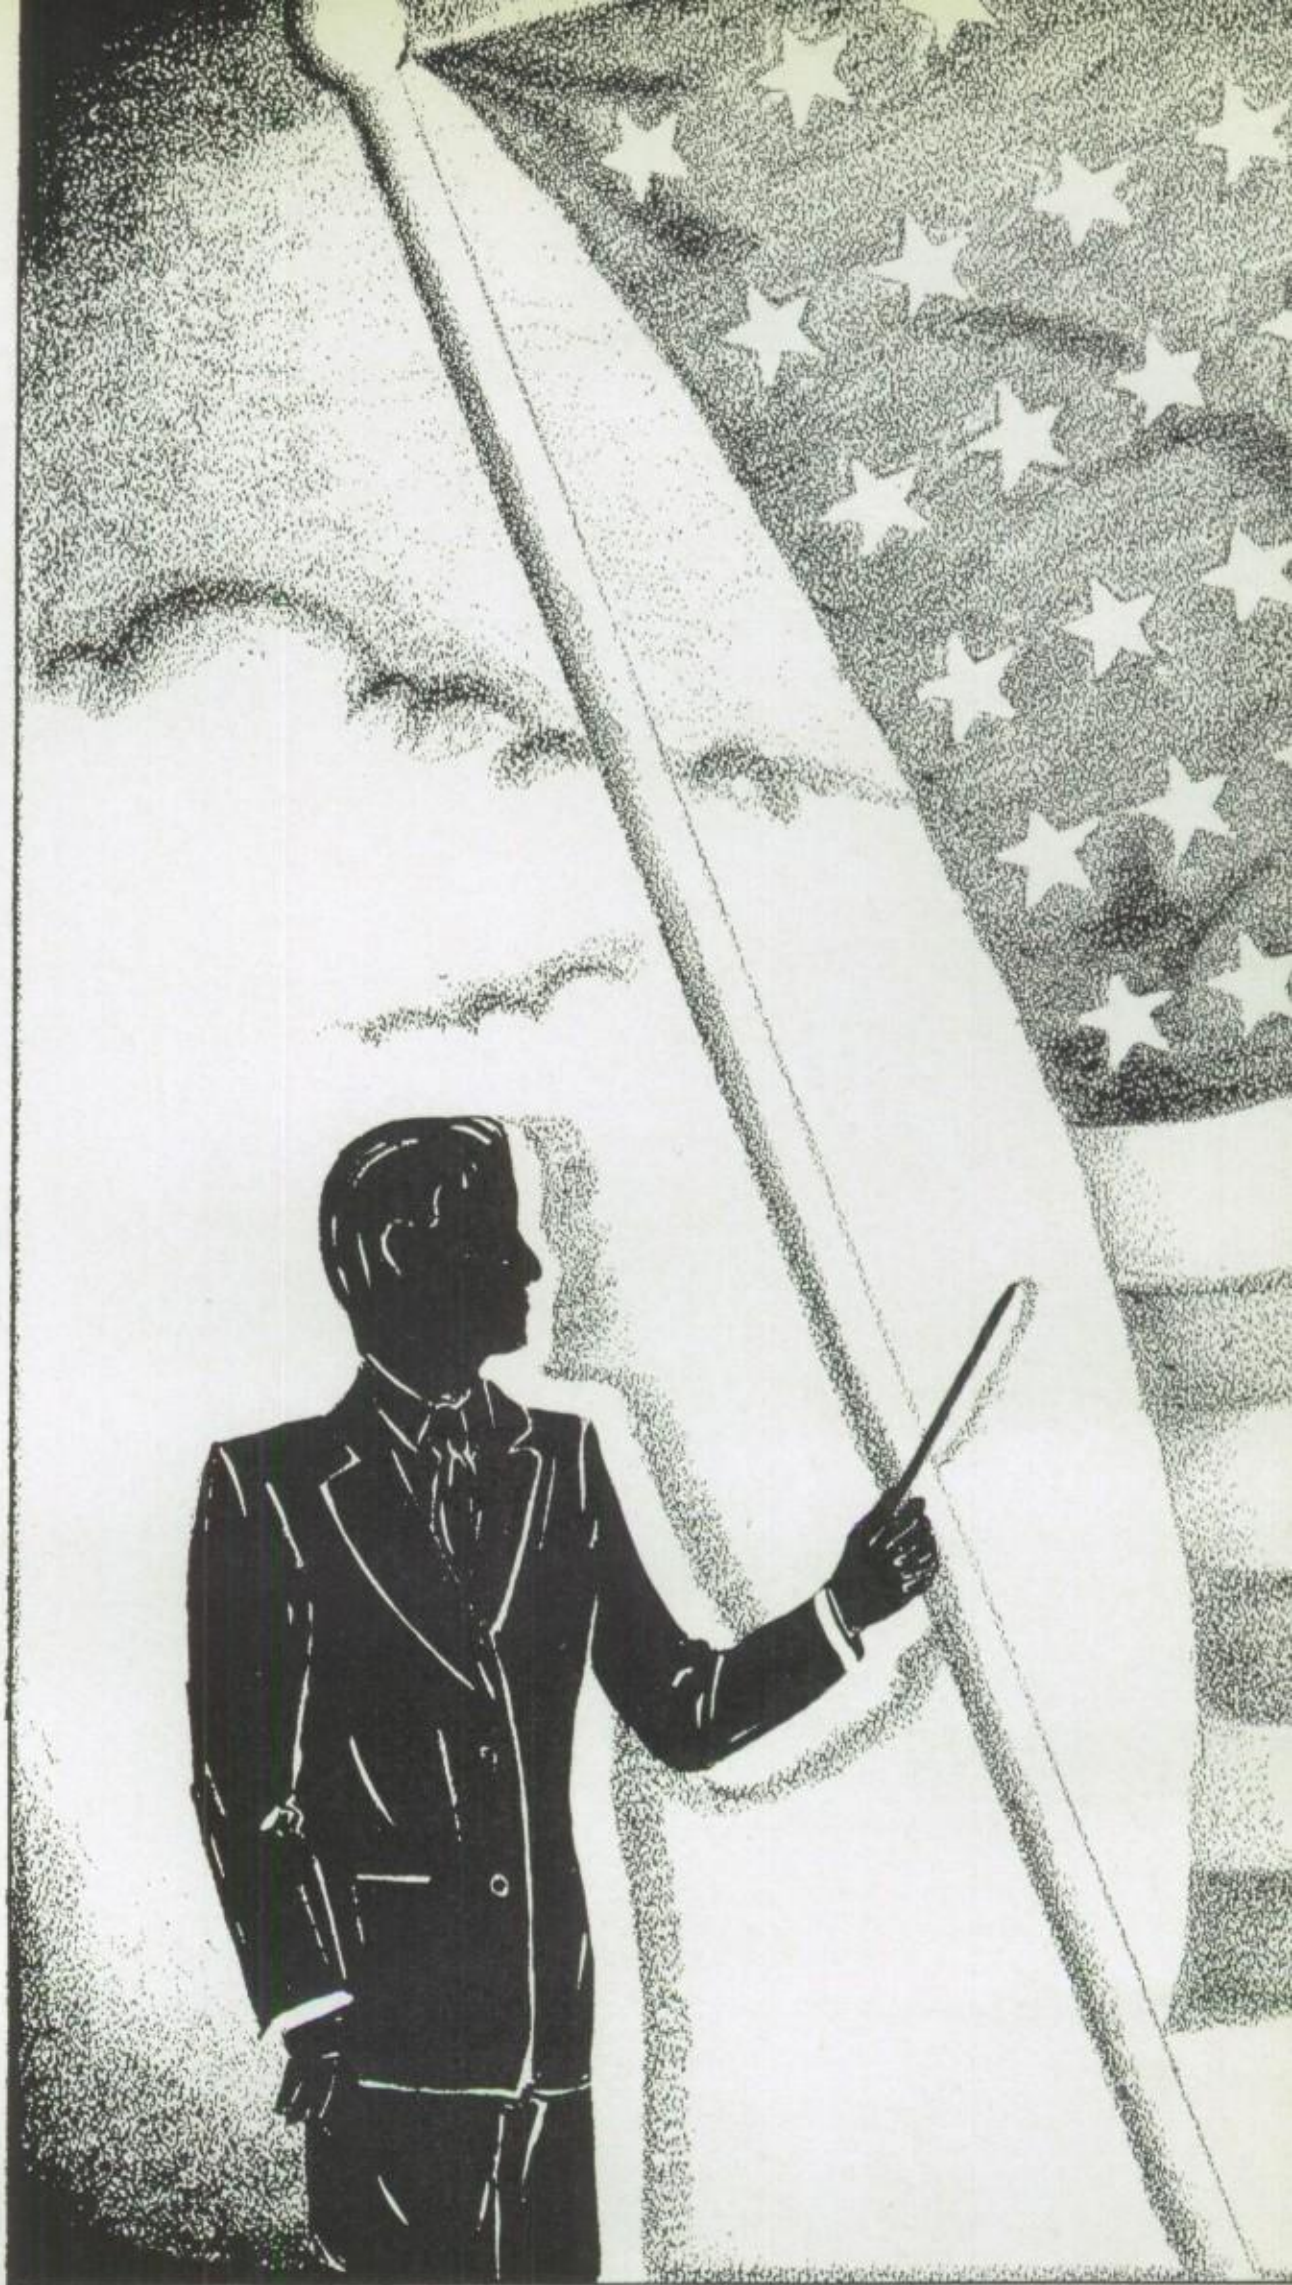

A tall, lanky figure; a ready smile beneath an unruly shock of brown hair; ability coupled with modesty; yes, this describes the fellow whom you remember as your first semester student body president . . . True Haneline!

He wasn't with us long. Nine weeks after he assumed office, he was stricken with an illness which forced him to leave school. However, True Haneline had already established a record of service and comradeship seldom equalled at this institution.

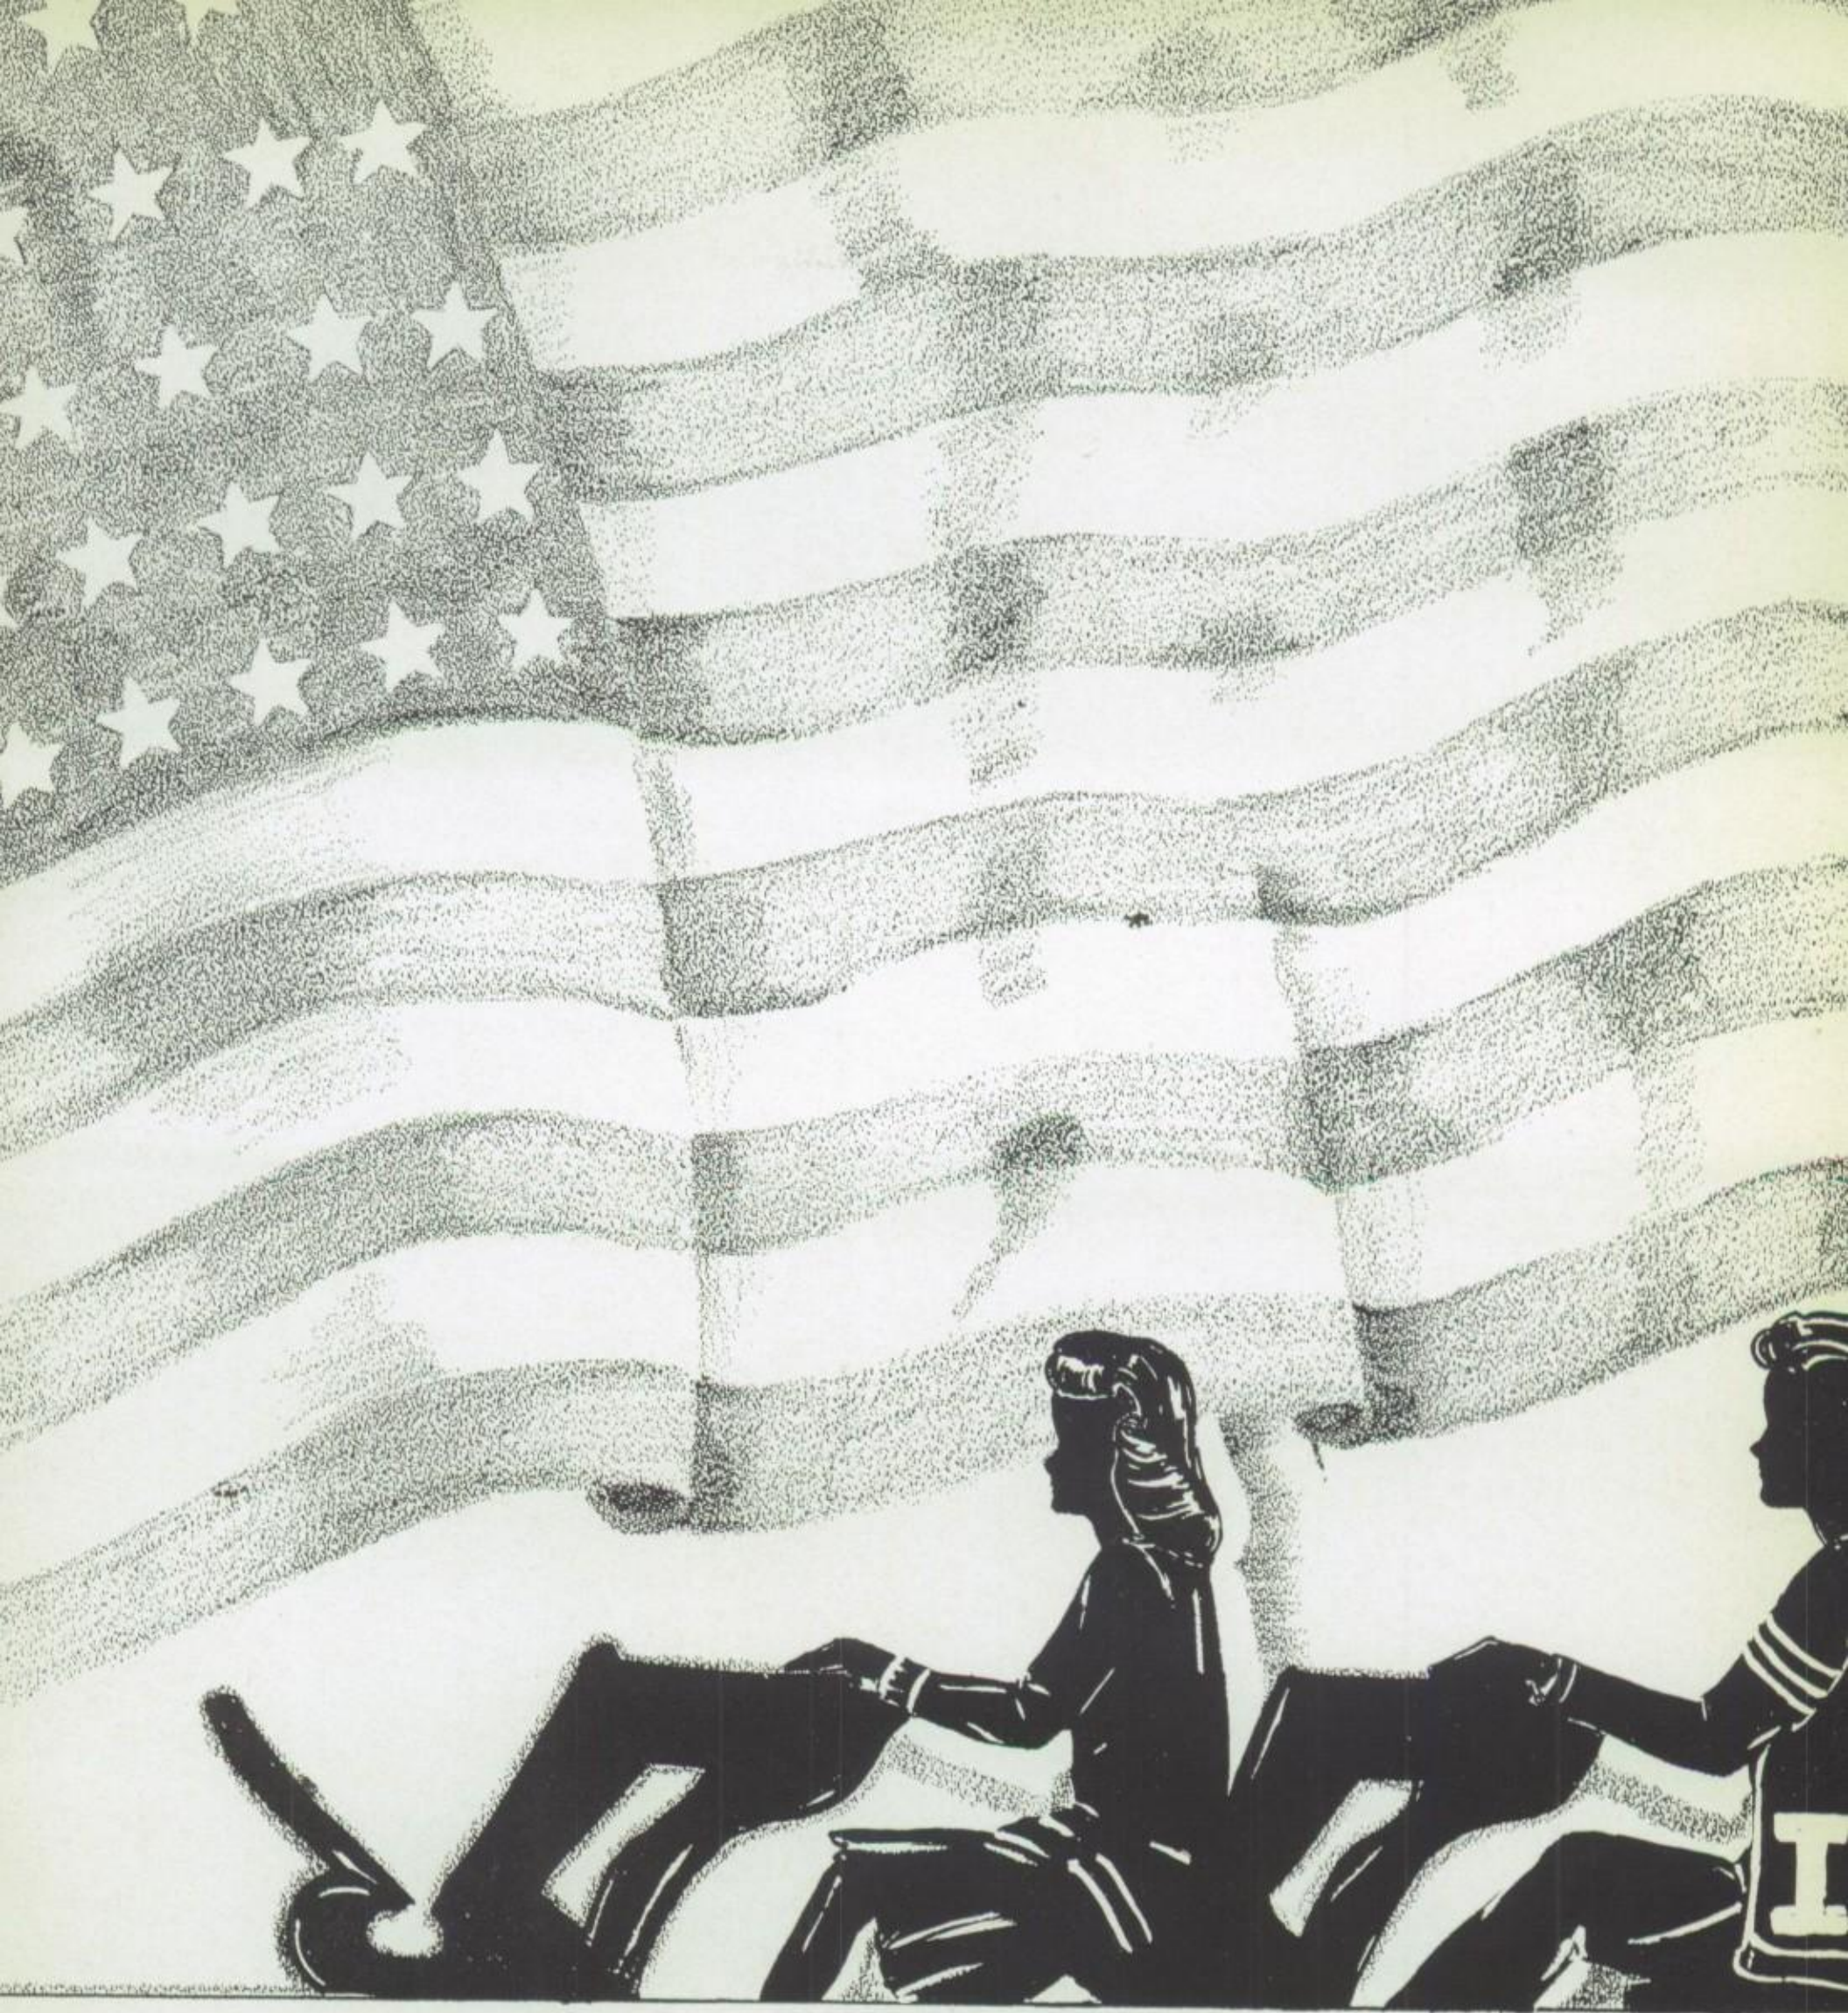

The principles for which he stood while president of the student body have been an inspiration for every Sentinel. We could not . . . we did not forget him!

Our Student Officers

This year at Inglewood High School you made a great step in self-government with the installation of a new student constitution. This document provided for a pupils' court and made many changes in your student administration. The passage of this legislation plus countless other activities by your student leaders marked the 1942-43 school year as one you will long remember.

Awards

Winners of the Frank D. Parent Cups (awarded annually on a point system for scholarship, citizenship, and activities) were Joe Lanning and Miriam Forbes. The Dr. Wallace Holley Watch (given to the boy in each graduating class who in the judgment of the faculty committee has made the greatest improvement during his four years in high school and who has shown promise in scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and athletics) was won by Gaylord Cowan. The Dr. Gail Fehrensens Watch (awarded to a senior girl for similar qualities) went this year to Miriam Hollingsworth. Gladys Deeter and Bob Finch won the bronze medals presented by the American Legion for excellence in scholarship, leadership, honor, courage, and service. Special certificates for the same qualities were awarded to Phyllis Karsten, Rita Durkee, Jane Motter, Walter Neikter, Bill Blaker, and Bill Gilmer.

Yes, you eagerly looked forward to Thursday for it was upon this day that "El Centinela" was issued. Eagerly you scanned the news of current student activities. With a smile you glanced at the cartoons and humorous columns; with deliberation you read the editorials; and with many a knowing glance, you consumed the gossip column. Yes, this was your paper . . . "El Centinela!"

For the second time in three years the Sentinel "Horsehiders" took the Bay League crown with an outstanding record for the season. Undefeated in Bay League, winning twelve in a row and losing but three games all year, the "'43" edition of the Inglewood Sentinel baseball team showed true championship form despite the handicap of a small squad.

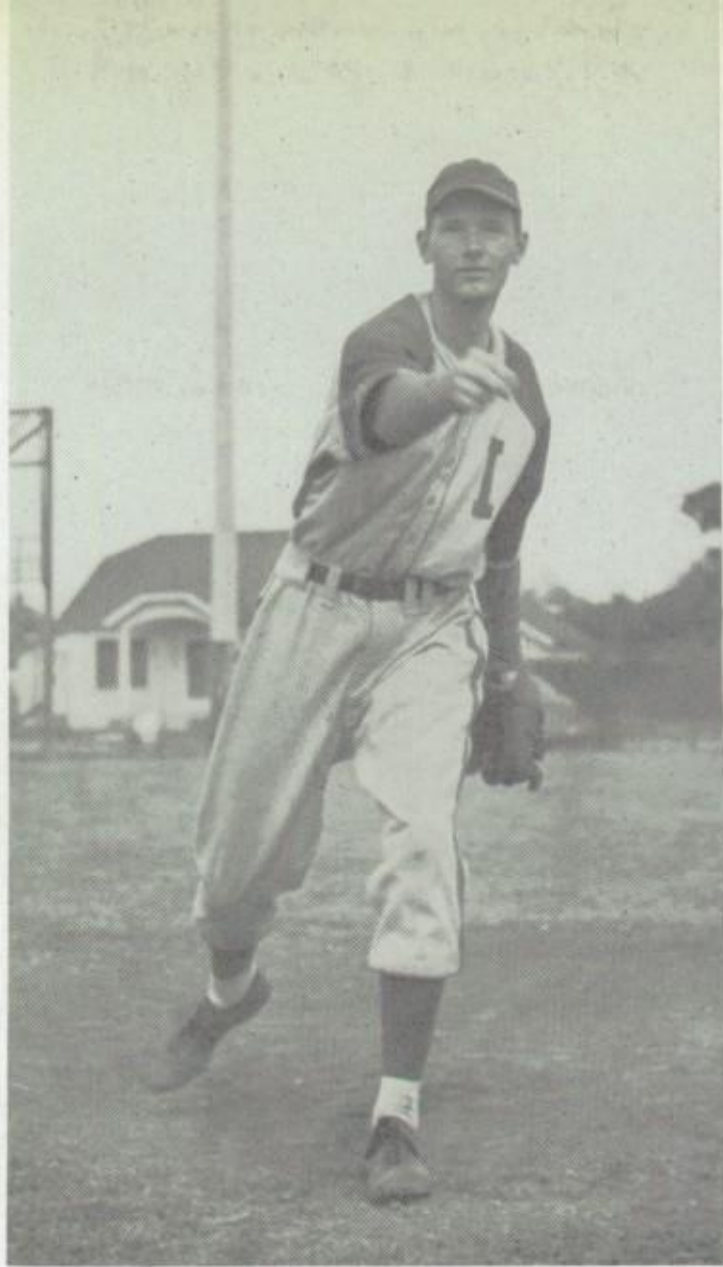

Dick Bishop, three-year letterman, two-year All-Bay League pitcher, and "most valuable man" this season, capped an amazing high school record by winning eleven games, losing but two, and in the deciding game with Compton hurling a perfect "no-hitter," the goal of all pitchers.

Supporting Bishop were such men as Johnnie Gates, four-year letterman, last year's "most valuable man," and an All-Bay Leaguer; co-captain Jack Green, the former water polo star, who in two seasons of baseball developed into an All-Bay League third baseman; and co-captain Jack Kirkland, powerhouse outfielder and All-Bay Leaguer.

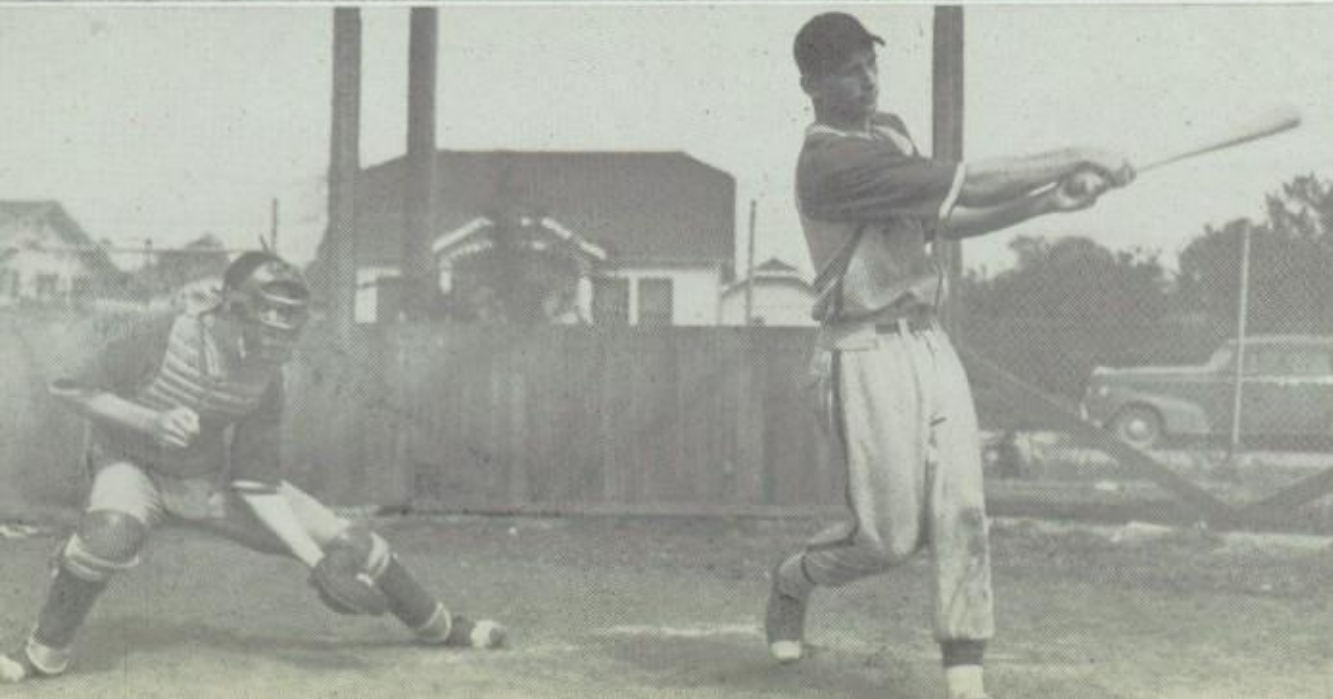

Behind this foursome was Eddie Hyduke, three-year letterman, who led the team in batting, runs batted in, and bases stolen; Lew Hastings, last year's batting champ and a three-year letterman; Darwin Horn, catcher par excellence; Roger Duitsman, outfielder de luxe; and Jerry Bell of football and basketball fame.

Even with such a team as this, there should be someone to back them up, and "Lefty" Walker, pitcher, and Joe Butler, utility man, did the job.

Coach Winslow is to be congratulated on the fine job he did in his first year here at Inglewood High—in fact the whole team is. NICE WORK, CHAMPS!

Not Just a Coach—But a Friend

Leaving behind one of Inglewood's better "B" football teams, Martin Ernaga has left Inglewood to join a bigger team. Although he cannot be here until the war is over and peace is once more restored, he will always be an inspiration to the fellows who knew him.

The fellows confided in him just as they did with fellow players. He wasn't just a man who gave them plays to execute, he was a fellow player. The team wanted to win for him. They knew that to win for him meant as much as Notre Dame's winning for Knute Rockne.

As he sat there on the bench, he felt himself part of the game, and the players who were on the gridiron felt his presence—they could almost hear his comments and encouragements. He didn't just make friends with the members of the football squad, but with all the fellows. All over this great country, schools are losing coaches but few schools have made such a sacrifice to the war effort as giving up a man like Mr. Ernaga.

So, Mr. Ernaga, friend of many, We, the Student Body of I. H. S., hope that while you're winning that bigger game with the Air Force sometime you'll think of us, because we'll be thinking of you.

Play Day

The twenty-fourth annual Play Day was held at Santa Monica High School on May 15 with Inglewood and Leuzinger as guests.

Inglewood girls, for the first time in a number of years, came marching home with the gold cup for first place in the Posture Parade, one of the main events of Play Day judged on appearance, posture, and marching ability.

The gay and colorful theme, "La Vida del Rancho," was carried out with everyone arriving in jeans and plaid shirts, and with Salutations Amigas, Sports Rodeo, and La Fiesta time as the day's program.

Activities

It will be a long time before we forget the fun we had this past year as members of our various clubs. The Latin banquet will always bring memories of good times and good food.

When we read over our old El Centinelas we can surely see why the members of Quill and Scroll won so many national honors. The members of Masque and Gavel gave us many pleasant hours of enjoyment. Their dramatic presentations were the highlights of many an assembly.

Yes—we really did have fun this past year.

Whenever we wanted something done efficiently we knew we could count on the members of Hi-Y and Tri-Y. These clubs donated many hours of tireless service to our school.

When they weren't working they planned many unusual trips and parties, which were the center of our social activities. It was through the work of their capable leaders who were guided by friendly advisers that these clubs have experienced so much success.
